

James A. Cunningham
Deputy Regional Administrator
Chicago Regional Office

As Deputy Regional Administrator for HUD's Midwest Regional Office, Jim is responsible for coordinating the delivery of HUD programs in Region V's six States: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin. He oversees the operations of seven HUD Field Offices throughout the Region managing White House initiatives, Secretarial priorities and achievement of HUD agency priority goals.

Jim has been with the Department for 26 years in various capacities in both Headquarters and the Field. Jim started his HUD career as a Presidential Management Intern in HUD Headquarters in the Community Development Block Grant Program. He has also worked in three Field Offices and was the Field Office Director for the Cincinnati HUD Office for 14 years. He earned a Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from the University of Illinois (1987) and a Masters of Public Administration from the American University (1991).